Dear Parents and Carers,

World Book Day

We will be celebrating The Woodfield World Book Day on March 10th, with a range of book-related activities. As part of the celebration, we are encouraging people to dress up as a character from a book to make the day even more fun. Below is a link to the World Book Day website suggesting some simple dressing-up ideas.

If the students wish to dress as a book character or simply not wear uniform that day, they need to bring £1. We are fund raising for Book Aid International, a charity that sends up to a million new, carefully selected children’s books to libraries in Africa each year.

We will be providing every student with a book from the World Book Day selection but if you would prefer the £1 voucher, please let us know.
